Organoleptic characteristics

Tasting:

Red ruby color, with light garnet shades, persistent perfume persistent with signs of violet, mature fruits and spices. It has a long-lasting structure and the freshness mark of the flavor stand out, which pleasantly accompanies the notable amount of strong and velvety tannins. This long persistence wine is well balanced, uniting in a pleasant way the feeling of heat to the soft elegance of the tannins and to the correct acidity.

Pairing: It is a wine appropriated to all courses of the traditional Tuscan cooking, but it offers also a wide possibility for other matches, for example for all the first courses based on the pasta to the soups and all main courses of white and red meats. Particularly right with Tuscan appetizers, soups and fresh or medium seasoned cheese.

About San Fabiano Calcinaia

San Fabiano Calcinaia is in Castellina in Chianti side, which descends towards Elsa Valley. The estate covers 165 hectares and it is made up of 2 parts: the first one, placed at 450 meters above sea level, is Cellole, where we have our best vineyards and our holiday house; the second one is San Fabiano Calcinaia, placed at 250 meters above sea level and 10 km distance from Castellina in Chianti, where you can find the rest of the vineyards, office, cellar and owner's house. The farmhouse and cellar are part of a small medieval village dating back to around the year 1000 A.D. Guido Serio and his wife Isa arrived to San Fabiano in 1983 and immediately made investments aimed to produce quality wines. They made gradually progress over the time, renewing the vineyards, the wine-making chain, the bottling and the cellar for refining the wine in wooden barrels. Nowadays the winery produces quality wines, which is appreciated all over the world, and produced exclusively with grapes from its own vineyards. The passage to organic will involve very soon the whole production, wine and oil, and it will be the last step of a business choice that combines quality and sustainability of production.

Furthermore 6 well-renovated apartments are available at the farm, furnished in typical Tuscan style, in the peace of the Siena countryside. San Fabiano Calcinaia staff will be always at your full disposal for guided tours in the cellar and for wine tasting, the best way to let you know our tradition and culture.
